Legislation - NARFE urges the United States Postal Service not to gamble with the health and retirement benefits of U.S. Postal Workers. NARFE is one of America's oldest and largest associations. It was founded in 1921 with the mission of protecting the earned rights and benefits of America's active and retired federal workers. NARFE is the largest federal employee/retiree organization and represents the retirement interests of nearly 5 million current and future federal annuitants, spouses and survivors.

The debt deal is a threat to federal workers and retirees. Thanks to thousands of letters and phone calls, the recent Washington debt deal spares federal worker annuities and earned health benefits from immediate cuts. Don't be fooled. Active and retired federal workers who Protect America's Heartbeat still face very real threats in the coming months. The debt deal creates a "Super Committee" of legislators to find trillions of dollars more in cuts. These legislators have their eye on the benefits that retirees and federal workers earn through years of dedicated service.

Health Insurance - On September 27 OPM announced that federal employee health premiums will be increasing an average of 3.8 percent. They are relieved that the average health insurance premium for our country's federal employees is rising this year at a rate that is comparable to private and other public-sector health insurance premiums - up just 3.8 percent from the year before. The rate increase is the lowest since 2008. Enrollees with self only coverage will pay $2.32 more per bi-weekly pay period and those with family coverage will pay $6.18 more. The 44 percent of participants enrolled in the Blue Cross and Blue Shield standard plan will pay about $20 less for coverage in 2012. Enrollees in the basic option will pay $102 more for single coverage and $239 more for family coverage per year. Plans offered by the Government Employees Health Association will increase rates by five to seven percent. The 2012 open season for health, dental, vision and flexible spending accounts will go from November 14 to December 12.

CPI-W - increased 0.3 percent for August 2011. The CPI-W index figure is now 223.326 which is 3.63 percent above the 2008 third-quarter average of 215.495, which is the base figure for determining the next COLA. The last COLA occurred at the beginning of 2009. There was no COLA for 2010, and there will be none for 2011. Whether there will be one for 2012 depends on whether the average for the third quarter of 2011 is higher than the highest previous third quarter average which is the third quarter average for 2008.

Protect America's Heartbeat - The Joint Select Committee on Deficit Reduction has until November 23 to pass legislation that would reduce the deficit by at least $1.5 trillion over the next 10 years. We need to make sure every member of Congress hears the voices of the federal workers and retirees who Protect America's Heartbeat. If you have not sent a message to your representative and senators do so now. Tell Washington - Don't single us out for debt-deal cuts. Also, President Obama proposed requiring federal workers to pay more for their retirement and ending the Federal Employees Retirement System annuity supplement for newly hired workers as part of his $3.2 trillion 10-year deficit-reduction package. The threat to federal retirees and active workers grows every day.

Postal Employees and Retirees - There has been a recent proposal that would remove postal employees and retirees from the federal retirement and health benefits systems. Join NARFE President Beaudoin in speaking out against this proposal today. Contact your legislators.
